

STATE REPUBLICAN TICKET. Series, Governor J. A. Thouthan
Series of State W. C. Edwards
Shifte Treasurer Geo. F. Co. cupt. Public Instruction FOR CONGRESS

Third District ... Fourth District ...W. A. CALDERHEAD Congressman at Large R. W. BLUE

COUNTY REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR COMMISSIONES.N. E. HARMON

City District FOR BUPBLESTATIVE. Sixty-seventh District U. M. LAWRENCE Sixty-eighth District P. A. Rohnsaucht Sixty-ninth District F. J. R. Zellicht

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

form of 1802.

Resolved, First: That the constant patriots has one party is in Fred a guarant; to the nation that the interests of its defenders, their whoevs and explains, will be liberally cared for and we denounce their cruel and deliberate believable betrayal by the present Democratic administration.

memograment of the state institutions, and to the discressit it has brought upon the good name of the state. And we picage the Republican party and the nominees of this convention to a faithful and economical discharge of all official dates and to a strict classrance and an house tenforcement of the laws and to obselve to the manufaces of the course.

Since Gorman held up the senate he is called a "foot pad." Yet he divided up fair and square.

Don't get the figures mixed. It is not 20 pounds of sugar for a dollar, but an advance of 20 per cent.

It is still safe betting that Lewelling vote the Populist ticket.

but the cost of the work that congress haps he forgot something. Perhaps he did was a bundred times more.

Idols are being shattered every day.

Bill Hackney came away from England without wiping it out of existence. In its attempt to steal the Corean territory, Japan hasn't yet got a smellthat is if you except the stink-pots,

Mr. Reedsays it galls him to have to use softer words in denunciation of the Democrats than they themselves use,

"Perfidy and dishonor" are harsh terms to use about a party that is no worse than the author of the expression,

It took Jay Gould a long time to save buy a $100,000 necklace for George's of lints toward all forms of law and

While Chum and Japan are resting,

The weary and non-sporting public is about convinced that the bicyclists have broken all the records and most all the

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in asking

There is a suspicion that if Mrs. Vanderbilt gets a divorce from her husband. that in about two weeks Lillian Russell will snarch him tap.

Briedonthal says that if Governor Lewelling has boodled any he does not know of it. That is probably what makes Breidenthal so sore.

"Liquidated labor" is the term they

he is too objuse to understand just what tor. is the matter with him, and is taking shelves loaded with unsaleable treatment for a bilious attack,

Oh yes, Governor Lewelling, we forgot to ask you why you have not yet explained why the assessment on the Pullman palace cars was reduced?

You will coofer a great favor on your family by comparing the tickets which have been put up in Sedg wick county and then voting as your judgment dictates,

Mrs. Lease has gone to the aid of the starving people of Pullman. Mrs. Lease will make them a speech for $15, and promise that it will greatly relieve them,

Some mean things off and on have been said against the Populists, but no gave the notorious French woman is a one has ever had the temerity to say reminder that Miss Polinid is sub-scanthat Lewelling was better than his party. hing the starry distance for that $15,000.

"Man wants i'ut little here below, nor wants that little long." Under Demowenr, a little less to spend and a little

PULLMAN'S CALIBRE,

Mr. Pullman gives some queer testinony before the labor commission. He sugar, admits being "underbidden by other companies," even when his foreman had figured the work down to cost. How other companies, with less capital and limited facilities, can build cars for less money than the actual cost of this great concern, points unmistakably that they Ovis L. ATHERTON Cost Pullman too much money. The OTS L ATHEROS items of cost can only be conjectured, sumption of other branches so that the but since the price of material is as low tabooed beer will feel the weight of the Downs, and he did. Blake's force the price of material is as low tabooed beer will feel the weight of the Downs, and he did. Blake's force the price of material is as low tabooed beer will feel the weight of the Downs, and he did. Blake's force the price of material is as low tabooed beer will feel the weight of the Downs. O. L. MILLER certain that extras are facked on to make up losses on another account. The viliage of Pullman has been a good deal of A. H. ELLIS a white elephant from the start. Everyto convince the public that a good per- fakes we have sent over there. centage of the expense of running the town is not charged up in the cost of cars. The price of material being fixed, the deficiency is made up houses at old rental rates. The difference between this and some other kinds of robbery is that this is done in a roundabout way.

F. B. DAWES

The losses which figure so conspicuously, covering several months prior to closing down, are inconsistent with the 8 per cent dividend-amount-Be-affirming the Republican national plat- ing in the aggregate to $2,800,000-for the last fiscal year. That is a large tive drummer.

deliberate betrayal by the present bemocratic administration.

Second: We adhere to the Republican flortune of protection, and believe that tariff have should protect the producte of the farm, as well as of the fonters.

Third. The American people favor bemeanlism and the republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under money, with such restrictions and under the party of values of the two mittains of the party of values of the two mittains and that the surchasing and died mying power of the called the country. Its farmers and its working men, demand that congress should emark a law levying a tax on importations of frequency of the country. Its farmers mad its working men, demand that congress should emark a law levying a tax on importations of frequency of the country. Its farmers mad its working men, demand that congress should emark a law levying a tax on importations of frequency of the country. Its farmers mad its working men, demand that congress should emark a law levying a tax on importations of frequency of the country. Its farmers mad its working men, demand the products of our own ourses. rein silver an locales, codes of our cones, reduces of our own codes, and state legismony. People with just a plain busiFourth: We favor rational and state legismony. People with just a plain busi-However, the succession of the present state and an interest of the encouragement of firegalion.

Fifth We denounce the present state and an interest of the courts, the Corruption and the outpetency of its officials, is green missing competency of its officials, is green missing on the state institutions, and for the discretit it has brought upon the Sixti: To the maintenance of these princi-sies we levite the support of all patriotic citizens. what will the world do when Mr. Pali-num dies? man dies?

EXIT MOWBRAY.

It is reported that the anarchist Mowbray has returned to England. The reading public will accept this news with no little astonishment. It is only a little while since Mr. Mowbray landed on our shores with a mission, which was nothing more nor less than the overturning of the very foundations of himself, if the conditions are right, will this government. Up to his departure the government seemed to occupy its place among the nations, which serves The cost of the strike was enormous to complicate matters not a little. Perfound anarchy in such a state of desuctude in this country that he feared Up to date Mr. Havemeyer has not to expose his person in its defense. Perfelt it incumbent upon himself to write haps he was invited to return, and the n letter to the American public. invitation may have been from this side of the Atlantic. Perhaps he will come back again. If he does let us hope he will visit the west. There are sections of country this side of Mexico which are said to be hospitable to Anarchists. They even give entertainments for their special benefit. A favorite pastime is to swing them into a state of blissful unconsciousness then lay them away with their boots on till their friends can send for them. Mowbray would be a capital guest of this class.

But we still have Herr Most, He will be able, unaided, to keep the spark of anarchy alive till other reinforcements come. He is an aggressive dog, this Herr Most. He has missionaries in the snough on bread and milk suppers to field who preach the everlasting gospel der, and they are not a few. This hatred of law is fundamental. It is the chief corner-stone of the temple of mis-Peixote of Brazil ought to sail in and rule. It is the altar upon which is kinlick De Mello again just for memory's died the incendiary fires of waste and ruin. It is the attribute which prompts the faithful to slay the law-abiding heretic. It is the pass-word-the countersign of the universal brotherhood of the order of Red Handed Anarchy everywhere.

Kansas can boast of no such order. for a divorce modestly demands three though she harbors some first-class hathouses to live in and $300,000 a year to ers. May this spirit find sepulchre in an early grave.

LIVING PIUTURE CAMPAIGN,

A good many level-lieaded Democrats declars that the Republicans haven't anything to do this fall; that the Democrats themselves will elect the Republican ticket. But the Republicans are great for making things unauimous and will all vote. There will be mighty little fun, however, as there is nothing to prove and mighty little to say, as the uso, and mone sense it's correct, as in over the country. The farmer's worth-"object lessous" are in plain view all all instances it has been lessened, and in less horse and low-priced wheat, and the high-priced trimmings for his evening Lewelling has been turned down, but cup of ten speak londer than the value of the campaign oragoods that have depreciated on his hands and his ledger groaning with unpaid and uncollectable accounts, are all the arguments be needs. The manufacturer with his smokeless chimneys and his plant not worth 50 cents on the dollar, don't need to sit up nights to listen to compaign talk. The fellows out of a job know when they have enough and are weary of the enforced varation and will vote for a resumption of business without much urging. In fact, nearly everybody is of "object lessons" and would gladly have them supplanted by "living pictures" of pro perous times,

That 40,000 france which Vanderbilt

The condition that now confronts this country is that the Democrats are decratic rule he gets little less for a little nouncing the administration in harrher pay, a little less to cat and a little less to terms than the Republicans care to use.

credit. The poor man will have to put Both fleets at once began firing, then up good hard stuff for his high-priced

It is suggested that while the govern ment is putting down the vulgarities of that the Dutch, after losing several the Indian dances, that it also take a ships, thought proper to retreat. peep at the low neck attire at the four hundred balls.

A beer boycott is not a temperance

The story from Austria to the effect that eight children were killed by hailstones looks like an attempt on the part

> Europe had better not get too previous. The effort to enable them to furnish us with all our supplies has so nearly. bankrupted us that we have mighty

TURTLES AS MOTIVE POWER.

From the New York Tritune "Spenking about turtles," observed the weather beaten traveler who had joined a party of drummers seated in the smoking room of a palace car, "why I have literally seen millions of them at once. The sea for miles around, as far as the eye could reach, was-"Where was this?" asked an inquist-

"Near the Gallapagos islands, off the west coast of South America," was the reply, and then, as the other passengers settled back in their seats, the weather beaten one spun this yarn:

"You see," he began, "we were in a little schooner and were on our way from Callao to St. Ambrose island for a load of guano. Well, the wind suddenly died out, and we began to drift. This state of affairs kept up for several days until early one morning we spied land ahead over the port bow. It was about seven miles away, I should think.

"Now, you may not believe it, but we suddenly ran into a shoal of big sea turtles that were so close together you could hardly see the water. They were there in millions and tremendous fellows, too, some of them weighing, I should judge, more than six hundred pounds. They lay all about the schooner's sides, and didn't seem to mind us a

"We were out of our course, and it began to look as if we never would get out of the mess we were in. Then, gentlemen, I conceived an idea. I told it to the carpenter, and he thought it was great, too. And this is how it worked: "We-that is, the carpenter and myself-stepped over the vessel's side and let ourselves down on the back of a great turtle, gently as we could. Did he mind it? Not a bit. He just raised one of his flippers and winked his eye at us, as if he would have said: 'Now, what are you fellows up to, anyhow?" "We had a lot of strong, flexible wire aboard and each of us had a coil of it over our arm. We each carried a pair of pincers, too. Then we started to

"We punched a small hole in the after part of the turtle's shell and fastened an end of wire in it and made the other end fast to the anchor chain. Then we stepped over to another turtie and repeated the operation. We soon had about a dozen turtles fastened in this manner.

tioned on the fo'c'stle deck, and you about like mad.

"Our schooner was buffeted about and jolted like a freight car being coupled to a balky engine. But our turtles were fast. They could not escape, and soon we were forging ahead at a ten knot clin. "Well, sirs, in less than two days we had those turtles trained so that they They would stop or drive ahead or sheer to port or starboard. We had rigged bits into their months and had fish lines for reins. I did the driving.

and rure sport it was, I tell you. "So we bowled along until we reached St. Ambrose, and there we came to anchor about a mile off shore. I wo of the turtles we harnessed to a large, flat-bottomed lighter, and owing to the rapidity of the trips we loaded up our schooner in very short time. "Then we hoisted anchor and pointed for Callao. We reached there in seven days. It seemed too bad, but as we had no further use for our turtles we sold them to a marketman, who shipped them to San Francisco."

"But what did the turtles eat during all this time?" queried the inquisitive passenger.

"Eat," replied the narrator, with scorn. "Don't you know that turtles ean go without food for weeks and months at a time? Why, when I was traveling up the Orinoco".

At this point, however, the train pulled into the station and "fifteen inutes for refreshments" interrupted

After serving his country for many years, both on land and sea, it was not until he was over fifty-six years of age that Adm. Blake was given the command of a fleet at sea. The expedition of which he was in charge was sent to operate against the Spanish. It was at Malaga, where Blake destroyed the combined fleets of Spain and Portugal. On his return to England he was h ored with the title of warden of the Ulinque ports. It was but a short time after his success in annihilating the navy of both Spain and Portugal that hostilities commenced between En-gland and Holland, which had been measurably brought on by dislike to the Dutch, as well as a wish to humiliate them and destroy a rival upon the

It was Blake of all others of the naval heroes who was selected and invested with the command of the forces against Holland.

Hostilities soon commenced, and Blake found himself opposed by the most celebrated admiral of the age. Van Tromp, at the head of one of the finest equipments that had ever been sent out the first naval power of the world Van Tromp appeared in the English channel with forte sail of men-of-war. and, by way of defense anchored in Dover rouds. The flest under Blake' command consisted of only twenty to spare, and a little less augur for a While the sugar trust is financially theless, Blake advanced at once. Van eight when he left Gravesend. Never I strong, they don't propose to extend any ! Tramp weighed anchor at his aurance, ranged themselves in order of battle. A desperate fight ensued, which continued from 4 o'clock in the afternoon till night, and the result of which was

The next affair with the Dutch in which Biake was engaged took place in November following. Van Tromp having largely increased his force, havmovement. It means un increased con- ing seventy men-of-war and sixty-five opponent, but, not willing to retreat he determined to try once more what the superiority of his sailors could do under so unequal a strife. The consequence was that after a conflict from eight in the morning till night, Blake found himself compelled to seek refuge by sailing up the Thames. The loss of life in this terrific encounter was immease. Although the circumstances were such as to remove from it all disgrace. Blake felt the discomfiture of retreat most severely, especially as it was followed by the Dutch admiral, who immediately made his way around the English coast, bearing a broom fastened to his maintopmast, to signify that he had swept the sea of British ships. When Blake sailed from Gravesend on this, his last coccasion, he had a fleet of sixty men-of-war, well equipped and manned. Very soon he found his old adversary, with seventy men-ofwar and three hundred sail of merchantmen under convoy. The battle this time was far more obstinate than any that had yet been fought between England and any other power. It was a fight to the death of one or the other as a naval predominancy of the sea. For three days and nights the two flects "hung together in embrace," sailing up the channel side by side never for a moment intermitting their fire; boarding whenever an opportunity could be given, "hand to hand and man to man," when, at last, on the fourth day at daylight the Dutch, having lost eleven of their men-of-war and nearly all of their merchant ships, and finding that only one of the English was destroyed, gave up the fight and took flight for the coast of Holland.

This disastrous engagement with Blake did not deter Von Tromp from trying issues with him again, as he sailed forth, but with less force, to contest superiority. Several other engage ments took place between the two admirals in the course of a year, and the result, upon the whole, was decidedly

Having thus asserted the domain of England over the seas, Blake returned to receive the honors bestowed upon

Blake was given a seat in parliament. but was not long allowed to remain in this to him an idle honor. Again he was dispatched with a fleet to the Mediterranean to chastise Spain for certain insults which that power had offered to the English flag. In this expedition he acted with his usual ability. He after engaged in an enterprise against Teneriffe with great success. While on this particular service he was taken ill and sailed for England. His life was fast ebbing, and his wish to die on English soil was granted by one hour ouly. He expired while on his ship in Plymouth harbor, August 27, 1657.

A magnificent public funeral fol-lowed, and his remains were placed in Westminster Abbey, in testimony of "The fun then commenced. We the grief of England for the loss of her fired off a small cannon we had sta- greatest defender; but it was among the many disgraceful incidents of the should have seen the commotion. The restoration that Blake's remains were sea was lashed to foam, and the big removed, and interred in St. Margaret's brutes scurried in all directions, tum- church, London. Nothing, however, done to his remains could remove his glory from the page of English history is having first taught Englishmen that during contempt of danger which they have so often shown. So honored is this celebrated hero that I do not know of a period when there has not been a great ship bearing his name, just as the great battleship we saw recently visiting our own waters honors this renowned admiral.

WARNED AWAY.

On that winter's day at Strawberry Hill two events occurred to arouse the whole mining camp. The executive board of the vigilance committee held a meeting lasting about an hour, and when it was over the chairman went down to Joe Brown's shanty and said: "Joe. I've come to give ye notice."

"What's the matter?" asked Joe. "The boys can't get on with you. You've purty nigh killed three or four men in the last three months, and we think you'd better go before it's a case

"Then I'm warned away?"

"That's it. You are to go before dark, and you'd better keep goin' fur two or three days." "But, if I won't go?"

"Waal, you know the programme. It the boys get too excited, they'd pull you up to a limb. Better go right along. Can't find no one yere to say a good word for you." "I'll think about it," said Joe, as the chairman turned away. An hour later a miner who was known to us simply as "the captain," and who had been ill for several days, sent for "Judge" Watkins, who had been chosen president of the camp, and Look yere, judge, I've been think-

"That's all right when a man's sick." replied the judge, "I dunno about that. I dunno much

"Fever, I reckon." "Yas, fever, and sunthin wass. Don't one of the big burds, much less shoot at let it jump you outer your boots, judge, but if I hain't got smallpox I'll eat my

"Almost sure about it?" "Dead sure! I knowed you'd had it and was safe, or I shouldn't have let you ered what's the matter with me."

Yes, sir, it's smallpox, and no doctor within a hundred miles! "Looks like it some, and I'm powerful

"No need of that. Say, judge, I want to be moved up to the Chinaman's vacant shanty, and I want to git one of the birds for a few weeks. the boys to nurse me through. Mebbe you kin find one who's had smallpox, a law protecting fish hawks, but it is a and won't her to risk anything."

he was just able to limp about after an birds, and he does nor of the dreadful disease made them core - of the state, but it is impossible to was I omits as guest.

FAIRMOUNT INSTITUTE

FALL TERM BEGINS SEPT. 5, 1894.

Full Courses of Study. Classical, Scientific, Normal and Business Courses.

FAIRMOUNT CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC IN CONNECTION WITH THE INSTITUTE. For circulars containing courses of study and other information, address

R. M. TUNNELL, Principal, Institute Building, WICHITA, KAN

ardly and selfish. With neither medicines nor comforts the captain must die, and there wasn't one chance in a hundred that his nurse would escape.

As the day were on many men got ready to leave camp, and everybody gave the captain's shanty a wide berth, He ought to be moved at once, but who would help him away? The men who carried a litter or gave him a shoulder to lean on would most certainly be exposed to the disease. The sun was fast going down and the excitement increasing when Joe Brown came marching up to the public square with his tools and blankets and spare clothing bundled up.

"Men," he said, as he looked around him, "I've had warnin"! I've been warned away because I've tried to hold my own agin some of the roughs. I'm told that I haven't a friend in camp. That being so, I want to ask a favor of an enemy. I want some of you to carry these things up to the Chinaman's shanty. I shall hev load enough with-

"What ar' ye goin' to do up thar, Joe?" asked a voice

"See the captain through. I've heard all about his case, and bin in to see him. I kin carry him up on my back. "But we never had smallpox."

"Never, and don't want it, but I'm goin' to nurse the captain just the same. Better take us up a store of food, and when I git too sick to come pail of water inside. I've been warned away, and hev concluded to go."

He made his way through the crowd and down to the captain's shauty. Not a man followed-not a hand was ex-tended to assist him. He wrapped the spoken. Joe Brown, bad man, had

Days and nights wore by. We watched the smoke from the shanty chimney. We missed Joe Brown, and set food and water at the door. One day we missed the smoke, and then a hundred pale-faced men whispered to each other: "They are dead-both dead!" But it was not so. By and by the smoke rolled out of the chimney, and next day two men, weak men, mutual support, came feebly walking down the trail-seven long weeks, as captain had not yet recovered when Providence must have been in it to pull them through. They were hollow-eyed ! and weak-voiced, and their fingers were long and thin. We turned out as one man to cheer and welcome them, but they were silent. They did not even look at us as they toiled through the town and headed down the trail for Red Horse valley. It was only when we followed after, begging of them to stay with us, that Joe Brown turned and said: "I was warned away as a bad man." 'And I prefer a bad man to a coward," added the captain. Then they went on and on, and by and by they made the bend of the trail and were lost to sight.

the Philadelphia Times.

People who visit the northern coast counties of New Jersey in summer are struck with the curious, bulky nests of the fish hawks, which are so common in that locality. These nests are about three feet across and about two feet deep, and are nothing more or less than right away a big heap of brush and dead branches. The hawks are protected in these counabout sickness, but I think I've diskiv- ties by the impression that they bring good luck, so that no one would think of even so much as throwing a stone at

There is no sign of suring so satisfactory to furmers along the coast as the coming of fish hawks. The coming and going of these birds are peculiar. You get up some morning in April and they are here. After their October, and you get up some morning sorry. The boys will be dreadfully ex- and find them gone. The same birds come back year after year, and they occupy the same next, which always needs a bit of rebuilding and occupies

It is generally believed that there is mistake. There is an unwritten law. The judge himself was the only man and a well-obeyed one, of sustom. A in camp who had had the disease, but boy is told that he must not disturb the accident, and not in good health other- ment that the hawks have received has wise. He spread the news of the cap- made them so have that their mosts are tain's ailment and did his best to se- built in doorgards and by the readsides. cure a volunteer, but not a man would and the naturally timid birds have no go. They would have shared almost fear of mankind. The fish have is P-e-a-r-l-i-n-e. This is the way we spell it. It's necessary to mention it, because some women don't seem to know, We find so many who say they use Pearline, and then, upon examination, find that what they are using is only some imitation of it.

See if your package is marked as above. There is only one Pearline. It makes white things whiter-bright things brighter-economical and saves at every point. For washing and cleaning, nothing under any other name can equal it.

Send Petillers and some unscrapplous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE - Pearline is never perilled it Back and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, is JAMES PVLE, N. 1 near them, and it is a rare thing to find a nest. They are the shycat of birds ig these places.

Years ago the fisher folk-on the coast used to think that if a fish hawk built its nest on one's land it was an omen of good luck, and that success would certainly follow him in whatever pursuit he should undertake, and although there is less of such feeling now, those who own property on which the hawks build welcome them in the spring as an out it won't be much risk to push a old acquaintance, and look auxiously for their coming as soon as the winter breaks. Fish hawks get their entire food supply from the water. Their eyes are hunny cigawettes; why, they're made so constructed that even at great with bwown paper" Chapple Clinton heights they can see fish that swim captain up, got him on his back, and in the gloom of evening started off for lightning speed. The fish is caught Eagle the Chinaman's shanty on the blenk in the claws, and is taken to the nest hilltop. By and by he returned for the captain's things, and as he went away writer has seen a hawk make a mistake "Why, George! I was afraid you would he fired the shanty. When a man real. and catch a hard crab, and when the say that; so I got Madame Stickem to izes his cowardice, he is silent. We crab got both his big claus fairly at use the smallest piece of paper possible met and separated and went to our work on the tender part of the bird's But it is always the and diving in the air to get rid of the proved to have a bigger, braver heart crab, but it is not often they get feeled than any man among us. hawk will fly away with a big ell wriggling in its claws that a man could not hold thirty seconds with both hands. The hawks sometimes, however, will dive at things they do not want, and a thing occurred a few years ago which is worth telling. A steamer was passing Seabright: It was a big coaster from Savannah to New York, and a lady on board lost overboard a handsoms and valuable patent health foods I could hear of lace shawl, which floated away after striking the water. The passengers, we figured it, seven long weeks shut being interested, watched the shawl as require desperate remedies. Tey him saw a fish hawk dive at it, get Joe was taken down. The hand of it fast in his claws, and fly inland with given name has some particular mean losing the article and advertised a re- flex kingly; therry; the noble; Frank his spurs he started to pay a visit to every fish hawk's nest in the county Buffalo Courier. immediately back of Scabright. The shawl was found langing on the side and her breath came in labored gasps, Little Silver. What the hawk wanted love me? he arribusly demanded seize with the shawl is hard to tell, for ing her shrinking hand. hawks use no such thing in building know," she faltered Gently he in their nests. rough as the sides, and without any de-pression; the eggs would roll off, denery of terror she grasped his arm out that the top of the nest is too "No no no!" she shrieked, convulsiverough for them to move. The tame- in "She is a widow: I want you myness of the hawks has in many cases self." She clung to him until he made them a nuisance. They build on solemnly promised that he would say telephone poles, on chimneys and cupo- nothing to the old lady at present las of houses, and it is sometimes nec- Detroit Tribune. essary to construct cupolas so they can not get any landing place, for the hawks do not mind in the least having The man or woman who envies these

A story is told of a pair of hawks the tree had been, and when they had ng a family that season.

It is erroneously stated that the trees in which fish hawks build dis soon afterward. The trute is the trees more old scraggy tree, and, being about dead, it does die, but more often the trees improve from the fertilization given by the particles of fish dropped y the hawks about the trees. Within a radius of five miles from Long Breach niand there are no less than five hundred of these great scraggy, awkward. nests, but they form part of the plo-

-The phonograph of Mr. Kneltzow,

-Tim-"What kind of a necktie is that, Bill—a four-in-hand?" Bill—"No, a second-hand."—South Boston News. "What's that noise?" asked Willie as the owls began to hoot. "It's a howl," said his English nurse. "Poh!" cried Willie. "I know that, but what is it that's howling?" - Harper's Bazas

AMONG THE WITS.

-To Us in Dreams -What is it speaks to us in dreams? Is it a voice from Exermore? Or is it something that we are The night before?

-Detroit Free Press. -Barmony Cholly Greene What

"Yans: I got them made to order to match my wusset shoes."- Erooklyn -Bound to Kick.-He-"Maria, this You're bound to find fasit anyway."

Boston Transcript. -"You haven't changed much," he observed, as he lighted a fresh eigan "since last I saw you." shaded her eyes from the glaring sunhusband." Although they were old schoolmates, conversation seemed to lag. - Detroit Tribune. -A Last Resort -- Mother-"I don't know what to do about my little her. I have been feeding him on all the new and he gets thioner and thinner every day." Doctor-"H'm! Desperate cases on meat and potatoes."-Pack. -Fond Mamma (oracularly)- "Evert it. The lady was very much put out at ling, or ought to have. Charles signward for the same. A lineman took a let's see what does Frank mean?" notion he could get the shawl after Lovely Daughter starting out of a hearing the circumstances, and with reverse) "Er Frank? Oh, he means

-No Risks Taken - Her lip quivered f a nest on the Lewis White farm, near but she did not speak. "Do you not signated his arm about her. "Darling The top of a fish hawk's nest is as he murmured, "would you like to have their nests torn up. They build again who happen to be able to dress well and to enjoy the pleasure of life a life the more than those who are compelled that built a nest one year in a small to work continuously will be miserapple tree on the Hance property, on able all their days, for no matter hoer Rumson Neck. The nest was built on a part of the tree which could not stand the weight, and it broke down. The nawks built in another part and a high wind came and entirely uprooted the tree. The birds then, for the third time, built their nest in the hole where the tree had been, and when they had the tree had been, and when they had hatched out their young a weasel killed as good electronstances? If you ran them all, and they had to give up raise ing a family that season and run together, and you lost because you couldn't run as fast as he, or lacked the power of endurance. So your failure in the race of life is not due to the track but to your lack of ability as a runner.- Pittsburgh Com-

What They Were Waiting rev.

Apercial Garette.

The New York laboring man owing to atmospheric influences, does not ing an unflushed house observed abovers standing perfectly motioniesa.

What are you waiting for Walting for the clock to strice ingive, so we can stop to and other danger, but the very name, found along many of the inland waters pier than the Edison phonograph, and ed the most active man as the grand .--